HISTORY

For several years I managed a fleet of Narrow Boats, which included complete engine maintenance , plumbing, electrics, and anti fouling during the winter months,plus working under pressure during the “seasonal” months.

I remained in the leisure industry learning all aspects of the business including working with dealerships. To extend my knowledge base I switched to servicing motor homes and caravans.

I currently have my own business now as a result, called “ New Forest

Caravan Services“ My company reviews are excellent, with the annual turnover increasing each year. In a very short period of time I have created a regular satisfied client base. (www.newforest-caravan-services.com)

ASPIRATIONS

I cannot deny my desire to work with boats. It is my passion.

Although motor/sailing yacht engines are in a status of continual upgrade, appliances, pumps, toilets, etc., are not dissimilar to those I currently maintain.

A transition into the Marine Industry would not prove a difficult progression for me, and the challenge I would welcome .

I have made considerable research into the Mallorca Marine Industry, and it's rapid growth and the positive reports I have read excite and encourage me immensely.

I am not a youngster looking for a fun life in the sun.

With my background, expertise and quick learning, I am now looking for a career change to a dynamic and fulfilling profession which will complete the energy and passion I have for my love of boats.
